OUR HISTORY

Everidge's foundation was built on two industry innovators that shaped the cold storage industry: International Cold Storage (ICS) and CrownTonka. ICS, founded in 1952, earned a reputation for engineering durable, high-performance walk-in coolers and freezers, setting early standards for quality and reliability. Meanwhile, CrownTonka's story began in 1964 with Crown Fixtures, later strengthened in 1997 when it acquired Tonka Coolers (founded in 1963), forming CrownTonka Walk-Ins. These strategic moves positioned CrownTonka as a leader in modular, customizable refrigeration solutions for diverse markets. By 2000, CrownTonka expanded further by acquiring ThermalRite Manufacturing, reinforcing its commitment to innovation. These brands laid the foundation for what would become Everidge—bringing together decades of expertise, craftsmanship, and customer trust that continue to define our mission today.

2000

Acquired ThermalRite Manufacturing (founded 1988).

2011
